TAXATION AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

Pea Coal in Boston is down to $10.50 a ton. The wires evidently are not in working order between Boston and Portland for the wholesale coal dealers in the Forest City have given no indication that they have heard the news. How the mass of the people must love the profiteers and pap-suckers.—Comment.

The wholesale dealers in Chicago buy their pork of the farmers at the rate of six and seven cents a pound. That seems to be cheap enough. But what is the reason that bacon should be from forty to forty-five cents a pound? Choice cuts and steak are abnormally high. Is there any sound reason for it? It seems to be a clear case of overcharging.—Comment.

One at least of the new formed nations, Jugo-Slavia is prospering. It's people under the inspiration of freedom, have gone to work with a will to repair the damages of war and provide themselves with the means to live on. Jugo-Slavia has a population of some thirteen millions. The harvests for 1921 were abundant, so much so that there was a great surplus to sell to the people of the nations around it and they have been disposing of this surplus of agricultural produce at astonishingly low prices. Here is an example of what is coming when there are settled conditions in the lands which the war devastated. The markets of the world will be flooded with cheap products. To lengthen the period of the profiteers hold on the windpipe of the consumer, high tariffs will be strenuously urged. But woe to those who assist in enacting such measures. The recent overture in Canada, by which the high tariff government was thrown out of power and a liberal administration installed is a pointer as to what will take place in this country if the profiteer and booster of prices is to be further favored at the expense of the consumer. This matter is of more importance to the people than politics. In war time such conditions may be borne but in time of peace—never.—Comment.

Germany as well as England is mining coal very much more cheaply than the United States. Welsh coal has been sold in New York the past month for $5. a ton. The British are taking the coal trade away from this country. A year ago in October we shipped 115,000 tons of coal to Cuba. Last October only 43,000 tons. It is stated that Welsh coal is supplanting Wyoming and Utah coal on the Pacific coast and in the Pacific islands.—News Item.

That's good news for the long suffering consumer. There will come a day and time when he won't be skinned. If the coal operators, railroads and wholesale dealers don't see the handwriting on the wall let them take the consequences. British coal at $6. a ton is better than American at $16. Perhaps when British coal floods the markets of the country, the profiteers and robber coal barons will be trying to secure form Congress a high tariff on foreign coal. There will be little danger of any law being passed in their interest. The opposition of the people who have been gouged by them will be too acute and strong for that.—Comment.

PIGEON HILL

Saturday, December 29, J. K. Denning passed his 82nd birthday very pleasantly, by receiving calls and many cards from distant relatives and friends. Three beautiful cakes attested to the love and skill of his daughters, Fannie March and Rose Denning and one from Mrs. John King. Mr. Denning is very active for 80 years, an age, still milks his share of 22 cows night and morning, cares for his pig, carries the milk three times a week, besides attending to all the business of a large farm, his mind being as clear as 50 years ago.

Alvin Strout was called home again on account of his grandfather being worse. Ralph Warren of Welchville is at present working for J. K. and C. K. Denning. They are harvesting ice.

Charles Denning was in Lewiston, Monday. Mrs. Herbert Mayberry is suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Morton and son Elmer called at the Pinnacle Farm, Sunday.

LOCKE'S MILLS

Mrs. W. H. Crockett installed the officers of the J. K. and C. K. Denning. Bert Goodwin of Norway was in town Sunday.

Mrs. A. R. Stowell visited relatives at Bryant's Pond, Sunday.

Several scouts from West Paris have been at one of the camps for a few days. Donald Tebbets is out of town on business.

Frank Cummings has gone to Vanceboro, where he will have charge of a mill.

The infant son of Charles Larrabee and wife died Saturday from whooping cough and pneumonia.

WELCHVILLE

Mrs. A. E. K. Grover has been visiting at Mrs. Alton Grover's a few days. The Silver Top Whist Party met with Mrs. Nell Keadell Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wight are stopping at Clement Poland's.

A. B. Grover from Oxford was through this place on his way to the Morey farm after pigs, recently.

Mrs. Bert Yeaton has been on the sick list, but is better.

Percy Culbert and Alton Grover are driving team for Harold and Stanley Pratt.

Hazel Culbert and Ada Grover from Oxford visited Mrs. P. E. Culbert, Friday.

OXFORD

Fore Street. Flora Cummings arrived at Merced, Calif. Dec. 23 having had a quiet, pleasant, comfortable trip of five days. She found her daughter, Mrs. James W. Bell and family fine.

P. W. Judkins, formerly of Norway, is in Merced, Calif. at present with his family but is commencing to build on his lot in Merced for future occupancy. The rainy season of Calif. is in full force with snow in the Mts. which one is supposed to believe as exceptional.

It isn't always true that the right hand knows what the left hand does. It frequently occurs that each knows that the other does nothing.

Many a man spoils a good joke by furnishing his own applause.

Never mind what others think of you. If you don't measure up in your own estimation what can you expect of them?

A man who can make a good excuse cannot do anything else well.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU LAY UP YOUR CAR THIS WINTER

Take or send your battery to the Willard Service Station to be stored until you need it. The additional security and convenience of leaving this to us far outweighs the moderate expense.

Dry storage is recommended for all batteries with wood separators, which have given a summer's service.

The plates will be disassembled and carefully stored in a dry place. In the spring, new separators are put in and the battery charged and put in condition for service.

Wet storage is recommended only for the Still Better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation, or for a wood insulated battery that has been in service only three or four months.

If you do not intend to run your car this winter, write, telephone or call upon the Willard Service Station immediately for full particulars about the storage of your battery.

POMONA GRANGE

Oxford Pomona Grange met with Norway Grange Tuesday, January 3. The meeting was called to order at 11 a. m. and a short business session was held. Officers present: Steward, E. E. Bennett, Bear River Grange; Assistant Steward, Arthur Buck; Lady Assistant Steward, Harriet Buck. The following candidates were given the fifth degree in full form: Merton Curtis, South Paris; Charles Hammond, South Paris; Lewis Woodman, South Paris; George Colby, South Paris; Norman Annis, Frederick Robie; Frank Morse, Edward H. Brown, Rose Jenkins, Carolyn Smith, Ernest Watson, Emma Twitchell, Alice Curtis, Nina Goodwin, Lavina Fogg, Norway Grange.

A grange dinner was served immediately after the degree work that did not in any way detract from the prestige of former occasions when Norway Grange was host. The retiring master of Norway Grange, U. S. G. Abbott, was every-where present, looking after the comfort of the guests.

We must not fail to tell the people of the very enjoyable part given by Rev. O. E. Barnard in his address of welcome, and in the response given by Rev. H. E. Markley of West Paris Grange. Says, "ministers make fine Grangers, sure—you'd say so too, if you'd heard them." Brother L. B. Parker of Lewiston was one of the visitors present.

The talk of State Lecturer Harriman was instructive and comprehensive, explaining and emphasizing many points sometimes neglected, and not considered properly. We predict that our new State Lecturer will arouse and intensify the interest in the granges throughout the State as his former experience in Suburban and Pomona work has given him a thorough insight into successes and failures.

About two hundred and fifty were present. The next Pomona will be held with Franklin Grange, Bryant's Pond, at the first Tuesday in February. Meeting closed in form.

Program presented follows:
Song, "The Grange is Marching On," Grange Address of Welcome, Rev. O. E. Barnard Response, Rev. H. E. Markley Reading solo encore, Mrs. Carolyn Smith Talk, State Lect. Merton V. Harriman Reading, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noble Reading, Mrs. Lucian Little, at Bethel. Melle Dunham, violin; Dennis Pike, drum; Cherry Noble, piano.
What Good Has the Grange Ever Done? Bro. A. E. Morse
The granges represented were Norway, Paris, Franklin, Oxford, Frederick Robie, Bethel and West Bethel, Bear River, Crooked River, West Paris, East Hebron, Androscoggin Pomona and Readfield.

Catarh Can be Cured

Catarh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. It therefore requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE destroys the foundation of the disease, gives the patient strength by improving the general health and assists nature in doing its work. All druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

If Your Trouble Is Scrofula

As Often Acquired as Inherited, You have eruptions and sores, and perhaps enlarged glands of the neck. This blood disease affects the internal organs, especially the lungs, and if neglected may develop into consumption. Causes many troubles, and is aggravated by impure air, bad water, too much heat or cold, and want of proper exercise. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the blood-purifying medicine that has been used with so much satisfaction for three generations, is wonderfully successful in the treatment of scrofula. Give it a trial. If a cathartic or laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills.

STORY OF A SHARK.

During the past summer there have been published a number of shark stories from the Atlantic coast of New England. Here is one of an incident that occurred more than 100 years ago which is absolutely true.

Over in Scotland a few centuries ago there was a large family, some of whom decided to come to America. They settled in Londonderry, New Hampshire. One of the girls married John Stark and was called Molly by that great general who said, "We will sleep in yonder camp to-night or Molly Stark is a widow."

Back in 1732 when Gen. George Washington was born in Virginia, there was a boy born to this New Hampshire family named Reuben. He lived on a farm and during his spare time made chairs, one of which I have in daily use although it is 169 years old.

Two daughters of Reuben moved to Ohio and I have letters written by them to their nephew John, in 1800—1812 and 1816. The postage was 25cts, and the letters were three weeks reaching New Hampshire. There was snow in New Hampshire every month in the year in 1816.

Reuben had a grand-son named John, who, when a young man sailed the seas, and on his last voyage acted as Captain of the ship. While making some repairs on the ship in the Mediterranean sea, he fell into the water. The crew saw near where John fell a man eating shark and realized something must be done at once to save the captain.

Sharks have a keen sense of smell and when about to eat a person always turn upon their back. The crew seized one of the natives they had on board and threw him in front of the shark, thus saving Captain John.

On their return to America the ship was captured by pirates and John and the crew were left on an island in the West Indies. After a short time a British ship appeared and took them to the United States. John's portion was to have been $4,000.00 in gold. The shark experience and the loss of salary for four years so discouraged John from sailing on the ocean that he married and settled on a farm in New Hampshire. Their first daughter was given the name of Lydia. There were two young men who sought Lydia's hand. One was named William and the other David and when Lydia was 27 in 1842 she married William. Soon after David married Sarah Ann and they had one son who was named William for the man Lydia married. When I was in New York I learned that the son William had died and left an estate of several hundred thousand dollars and no heirs.

The writer thinks Lydia made a mistake and should have married David, for then he would have been one of the six nearest heirs.

The line which divided the towns of Atkinson and Hampstead passed through John's house, the bed room being in Atkinson and the living room in Hampstead. On January 21st, 1820 another daughter was born and given the name of Achash for the daughter of Caleb of that name in Biblical history. Six weeks later the family moved to Dumbarton and in 1831 John passed from earth. Achash and her mother lived on the farm together.

In the year 1851 there was a man in London, N. H. acting as a colporteur for the American Bible Society, selling and giving away Bibles. When in Dumbarton he called for the first time at the home of Achash and her mother and as there was a hard rain he was invited to spend the night. He was treated so well that during the year he called several times. On one of the later visits he gave the mother a Bible with a note calling attention to Joshua 15:16, 17.

In 1852 Achash married the Bible colporteur and in 1902 they celebrated their golden wedding on Sabbath. If it had not been for the poor black man who lost his life by the shark in the Mediterranean Sea, in all probability this letter never would have been written for I should not have been here to write it.—Hamlin D. Brown, Watertown, Mass.

JUSTICE MORRILL AND INJUNCTIONS

The following statement is Justice Morrill's views in the case of two men brought before him at Rumford; charged with criminal contempt of court. The case was an outcome of an alleged violation of an injunction issued Nov. 4, 1921 by Justice Morrill against ninety-five striking employees of the International Paper Co.

The statement follows:

STATE OF MAINE
Oxford County Sup. Jud. Court in Equity
Rumford, Monday, Jan. 2, 1922.
State of Maine

Nicola Bevelacqua and Fred Duca.

Both respondents having pleaded guilty, at the conclusion of the remarks of counsel upon the question of sentence the Court made the following statement:

"I regret very much to have occasion to come here again upon this matter. When I was here at the former hearing under contempt proceedings, I attempted to make very clear to all who were present in this room—and the room was crowded at that time—that the injunction which had been issued must stand until it was modified by the court and that it must be obeyed; that the power of this State was behind it. At that time I regarded the offense of the men who had violated that injunction as entitled to some leniency from me, that they had been open to a great deal of discussion, and while I had no question of the validity of the injunction then, I have no question of the validity of it now, in view of the recent decisions that have been handed down since that time, and I thought that some leniency was due to them. Now an appeal has been taken from the complaint of the violation of that injunction in a particular in which there can be no question on the direct act of violence against the employees of the International Paper Company; not only a direct violation of the injunction but a act of violence, more or less premeditated, an act which constitutes a crime under the criminal statutes of this State.

Now this proceeding, as counsel has said, is entirely distinct from proceedings under the criminal law. It is framed in order to vindicate the authority of the court. The former proceedings were framed to aid the international Paper Company in the preservation of their rights under the writ of injunction. These proceedings have been framed—and about that let me say to those who do not understand legal terms, I mean the paper which was presented to me—have been drawn so as to show a criminal contempt of court.

Now I think that counsel for the respondents have advised their clients in a very careful and at the same time in a very proper way, and I propose to take into consideration the fact that these men have listened to my counsel and have pleaded guilty to this complaint, and I propose further to take into consideration the difference in the degree of criminality which has been indicated by counsel for the complainant, in the acts which were committed. I think that the counsel for the complainant have adopted a very fair attitude in acquainting the counsel for these men with the case which they had against them, and I think they have shown a very conciliatory spirit in stating to the court frankly the difference in the degree of the criminality of these men. The Court welcomes any such advice.

Now I came here with the idea that these men were, we might say, equally guilty, but there are facts stated here by counsel for the complainant which warrants the Court in making some distinction between the cases of the two men. Now the respondent Duca is a naturalized American citizen. His participation in the overt acts in contempt of an injunction of the court, if persisted in, might show such an entire lack of appreciation of the duties of citizenship as to warrant the naturalization authorities in proceeding to have his naturalization papers revoked. Now when we admit men to citizenship, we insist that they show themselves well disposed to the laws of this country and that they shall not be men who have a contempt for the laws. If they persist in violating the laws of the country in showing contempt for its institutions, that may be cause for revoking their rights under their naturalization proceedings.

Now I have taken into consideration as to Duca, and I want every naturalized American citizen to understand that, as to the other man Bevelacqua it appears that he is not a naturalized American citizen. Like many men of his nationality—and I take it he is an Italian from the name—he seems not to have understood the spirit under which we live in this country, the idea of obedience to laws, the idea that a man has no right to take the law into his own hands. That is something that, unfortunately, some people have taken a long time to learn; that they do not seem to understand it. But Sunday.

It is useless for me to speak to them in regard to that at greater length. I tried to say before when I was here, all that was necessary. I tried to impress upon everybody the necessity of obeying the processes of the courts. Now I will say frankly that I had some consultation with counsel before I came into the court room and took up this case, in which I was advised that the respondents were willing to plead guilty and I thought over what I should do. In regard to Duca, in view of the fact that he is a man who has a family dependent upon him for daily support, and in view of the fact that he is a naturalized American citizen and who may, if he persists in this course, have to face a petition to have his naturalization revoked, I have made up my mind that I will give him another chance and suspend sentence so far as he is concerned, during good behavior. If at any time his behavior is such that the confidence thus shown in him is found to be ill warranted, proceedings can issue at any time to bring him before the court for the offense under this complaint; so that, so far as he is concerned, I propose to suspend sentence. So far as Bevelacqua is concerned, I think that will not do; that a distinction should be made, and I shall impose upon him an imprisonment of two months in the county jail, to take effect at once.

Mr. Clerk, you may impose the sentence. The respondent Bevelacqua was there upon sentence to imprisonment for sixty days in the county jail.

GIRL HAD PAINFUL TIMES

Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and would often have to lie down because of pains. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said her girls took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got well, so mother said she guessed she would let me try it. It is doing me good and I praise it highly. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."

STELLA NEWTON, R. R. 8, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy.

If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in safety.

The new year was ushered in with a cold wave Monday. Below zero temperatures with a brisk northwest wind opened the day. Near zero weather with the same wind at noon caused all to bundle up tightly. Falling temperature went in to effect at sunset. One year ago spring like conditions were here and remained through the month.

How, Bertram G. McIntire has been appointed a member of the Maine Committee in charge of raising funds for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. Mr. McIntire will represent Oxford County, the appointment being made by Judge Charles P. Johnson of Portland State Chairman.

Deputy Marshal Simeon Harriman of Portland was at his home over the week with three federal prisoners and will be assisted by Chief of Police Watts and H. F. Peirce of Portland.

Norway Lodge Loyal Order of Moose held their meeting Friday evening at Moose Hall. Every member should start the new year right and make an effort to attend.

Members of Henry Stone Post No. 82 are working up a fair to be held on an afternoon and evening sometime in February. Numerous legitimate games will be made attractive to the public and many novelties introduced to coax money into the treasury. Some wholesome amusement for the evening will be staged.

Guessing the number of beans in a bottle beginning some weeks before the fair, will give to the winner a trade ticket on one of the Norway stores. Committee in charge includes Maurice E. Prince, chairman; Dr. A. Leon Sikkens, Chester P. Gates and Arthur Gammon.

The dry goods stores, shoe store, clothing stores and banks remained closed Monday. Other places of business and factories continued as usual. Closing hours were observed at the post office and the city carriers made short hauls.

Howard O. Lasselle of Bath was in town over Sunday and Monday with his family. He has been with the Texas Shipbuilding Corporation several years, is now among twenty-five original employees from 4800 on the pay roll during the war.

Dr. A. Leon Sikkens, commander of Henry Stone Post, American Legion, Raymond, Evers, adjutant and Maurice E. Prince, officer of finance attended the convention of American Legion officers of Maine at Lewiston Wednesday.

Mike Carbin of West Paris was in town Tuesday and recovering from the shock resulting from being knocked down by an automobile in the streets at Lynn, Mass. Mike won't say much about it but a Lynn news item tells the story. According to the item Mike was on a visit to relatives in that city over the holidays, and planned to attend the inauguration of Mayor-elect McPhitres of Y. D. fame, Saturday. While crossing the street Saturday morning, he was knocked down by a Ford and remained dead to the world some four hours. Completely unnerved he boarded the first train for Maine arriving at West Paris Saturday night.

Mike was disappointed to miss the mayors' reception and other functions, as he was the guest of a nephew "Bill" P. Conery, one of the big men to put the candidate into the chair. "Bill" Conery by the way did some thrilling stunts in no-man's land overseas and duplicated some of the beats in this campaign.

Melvin Smith has something new, a wheel barrow with a ski attached to the wheel. Heavy loads are hauled easily without the expense of fitting up a sled arrangement.

Stock was taken at Stone's Drug store early this week.

Fred K. Owens of the Portland Express was a recent visitor in town. Mr. Owen is a prominent newspaper man in this state, and has followed the game thirty years and more. He has been in the various departments of the Portland Press some twenty-five years, going to the Express a few weeks ago when a change of ownership united the Press and Herald.

JOSEPH ANDREWS' MAINE VISIT

Pittsburg, Pa., Dear Advertiser:—West Fryeburg has changed but little in the more than 70 years that have elapsed since I, a little lad living in Lovell, made my first pilgrimage to that neighborhood to visit amongst my many relatives living there of my Andrews and Colby kindred. The fine productive intervals farms that remind me so much of the prairies of the west are still much the same. The roar and rumble of Swans Falls has ceased for a moment ceased its music. The liquid waters of the historic Saco still flow swiftly onward to the sea and the grand old mountains Kearsarge, Baldface, Spectled Mountain with their lesser peaks between, guarded by the giant peaks of the White Mountain Range, still stand and will ever stand as enduring monuments to the brave and patriotic people who long years ago left their Massachusetts homes and with gun, axe, scythe, and hoe migrated here and built new homes in the wilderness of Maine. With their guns they protected their homes from their savage foes and supplied their tables with the wild game of the forest. With their axe they laid low the giants of the forest, cleared their fields and prepared the fuel to cook their food and keep their cabins warm. With their scythe they cut whatever hay they needed to feed their stock from the wild grass that grew spontaneously upon the low marshy bottoms. And with their hoes they planted corn, wheat, rye and garden truck, and as is often the case "the pioneers built better than they knew." Most of the farm buildings now standing were old when I was a boy more than 70 years ago, and must have been built more than a hundred years ago. They are as sound today as when first built. Their only upkeep has been an occasional resurfacing and repainting and as a rule most of the buildings have been kept in good repair and have a neat and homelike appearance.

Henry Andrews fine home has been in the Andrews family more than a hundred years. My father Abraham Andrews 2nd was born at Billerica, Mass., in 1774 and came to Lovell with his parents and three sisters when about ten years of age, where he grew to manhood and in 1794 married Hannah Barker also of Lovell by whom he had three sons, Abraham, Stephen and Solomon, and a babe that died in infancy. His first wife died in 1804 and he married second, Sally Frye of Fryeburg and soon after moved to Fryeburg and I am quite sure that all of the ten children by his second wife were born in the big old Andrews house, Hannah in 1806, then Dean, Susan F., Mary, George W., Sarah F.,

HENRY THAYER & CO., Inc.
Established 1847
CAMBRIDGE 39 — BOSTON, MASS.

Susan F., John S., Caroline E., and daughter Ida, of whom I shall write latter on in my story. I visited the Burbank grave in the Cemetery and noted that their was no marker at the grave, which is not as it should be. Mr. Burbank had his faults and some of them were serious faults but he had his virtues too. He served his country for nine months during the civil war and was given an honorable discharge and a pension by his good old Uncle Sam. He was a member of Grover Post No. 126 of the Fryeburg G. A. R. and was entitled to a Government Marker if his friends saw fit to put in an application, charge of that branch of the service.

On the 21st of August I visited Marcus Smart at Fryeburg. Center with Henry Andrews, both old soldiers and members of the Post. I brought up the subject of a marker, and they both agreed that E. W. Burbank should have a headstone, and that through the agency of the G. A. R. Post, and Henry said "I will see, Ed. Hastings and he will know just what to do, for he has helped a good many old soldiers to get markers." After my return from Maine I wrote to my niece, Fanny Burbank Gile, and told her what little I knew about her father's business and of the plan to try to get her father a government headstone, and on Oct. 23 I received a letter from her from which I quote the following, "I was surprised to know that they did not set any stone at my father's grave, and he was entitled to a government stone. Do you really think they will set one, but if they will not I shall try and have one set. I have never heard much about the property which could not have been very much. I know that they tried to cheat the man that took care of them out of his pay. I don't know what they would have done if they could not have got him to take care of them. Of course father's pension helped out. I was willing one dollar and never got it, but don't care anything about that."

"I have a marker the same as Henry's set at mother's grave and they took Henry's up on account of a free that stood at head of mother's grave and set them at the foot of the graves, so they are even now and the vases for flowers at the head and it looks a lot better."

Uncle Abraham was not working now. Some- how he can't seem to get much work to do. We took a five hundred mile trip down the coast and back with some friends. We were gone five days and had a fine outing. I got the paper that you sent, I am glad someone is good to Mary. It must be hard to lay in bed all the time and be waited on. It will soon be Thanksgiving, but from the looks of things our Turkey-chicken will be a small one—Fanny."

I met Byron Hutchins on the street and promised him a call, but in the day time all the men were busy saving their hay crop, and at my age it is hard to go calling after night, and I failed to make the call. The fine brick house in which he lives looks just as fresh and tidy as when a boy I used to visit my sister Hannah and uncle Edmund Shirley and son Frank and daughter Susan, a bright young lady who died about 1890, whose home it was for many years. I do not remember what became of the Sam Carter house across the road from Byron's. The fine new stand of buildings where Charles Andrews and family lived until a few years ago has taken its place. Henry Andrews owns the house now and had it rented to a man who worked for him when he needed a hired man, but whose name I forget.

The old store building just beyond the Hutchins house was still standing and occupied by an aged lady who lived alone. In my boyhood days it was occupied as a store by Abraham Andrews, and Edmund Shirley and when I was a little boy and used to call at the store I was sometimes rewarded with a stick of candy or a glass of mead, which to my boyish fancy was a great treat. Further on down the road is the neat farm house where Nat Hardy and his wife used to live until their deaths a few years ago, and now occupied by strangers to me. In earlier years it was the home of the 'he Holdings and the Carters sold out and moved to Nebraska.

The next on my list is B. W. McKeen, and for the same reason that I did not call upon Mr. Hutchins I did not call on him and did not chance to meet him on the road. He and his wife and married son Harold occupy the place and are up to date farmers. Years ago Walker's father and mother were always on my calling list. They were a fine old couple and I enjoyed visiting with them very much indeed. At the Stephen Hardy place I did not call, as Stephen had only one I knew had been laid away in the new by cemetery and his nephew Walter had come into the possession of the farm. Stephen's father, Colonel Nat Hardy and wife and his brother Caleb who lived in the house just across the road and still standing were amongst my old time friends and I always called upon them when visiting in the neighborhood. James Meserve married Caleb's daughter, Sarah and carried on the farm. In the spring of 1887 I did not call. Meserve's chores for a week while he and family were away on a visit. I carried in the wood and water and looked after the stock at the barn and had a pleasant time visiting with the nice old gentleman. The old time schoolhouse from which I graduated in the spring of 1887 after four months of interesting study burned to the ground long years ago, and was replaced by the modern schoolhouse, now standing further down the road and on the opposite side, near where the Richard Colby house used to stand.

At this point I took a short recess, and started out for an eight mile health walk, across 22 St. bridge to Forbes St. where the new Boulevard of the Allies is being built, which I followed for more than a mile. I visited the lower floor of the great Kaufman's department store and bought a Menthol Inhaler then down 5th Ave. where I bought a much needed ribbon for my Corona Folding Typewriter, then home by the way of Point Bridge and Carson street where I arrived in due season none the worse for the walk. In this morning's mail I received a short sad letter from Mrs. Swan, which I give in full. "Happy Camp, Calif., Dec. 20, 1921—Mr. Joseph Andrews, Charley died today at 12:45. Will write particulars if you wish. Sincerely yours, Naomi Swan."

For the second time within a month the Three Rivers have reached the flood stage about 25 feet and then receded without doing much damage. I wish for all your readers a Happy New Year.

Joseph Andrews

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Norway Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit

A truthful statement of a Norway citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Norway citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

John F. Sampson, prop., painting estab. 174 Main street, Norway, says: "I was feeling run down and miserable for quite a long time. I was tired and nervous and my kidneys didn't act regularly. At times the secretions passed too frequently and then again they were scanty. My head ached night and day. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got three boxes at Stone's Drug Store. When I had finished taking them, the trouble left me and I have not been bothered since. I can certainly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone afflicted likewise."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Sampson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

indal, Mass., were in town Saturday to attend the funeral of their father, William Robinson.

Out of town people who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Louise Richmond Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. George Austin, Charles Robinson, Mrs. Lina Carr and Mrs. Mary E. Robinson of Portland, Alex. Benedek of New York, Mrs. Arthur Moorehouse and Annie Moorehouse of Lewiston.
